Higher Education Problems Get Legislature's Attention

By WILLIAM S. VANCE
News Staff Correspondent
COLUMBUS, Ohio — What first appeared to be a disjointed approach to Ohio's higher education problems is showing new cohesion as the General Assembly churns into its final two weeks of working sessions.

A week highlighted by conference committee agreement on a bill creating a board of regent to oversee all state-assisted higher education also saw action on four other education measures. All are being geared to fit under the umbrella concept of the regents bill.

High on the emphasis list is the relatively new field of technical education, designed to provide specialized training beyond the high school to fill the growing need for assistants to back up college-trained professionals.

Tech Bill Nears Completion
Final legislative action is expected within week on bill to expand the realm of technical education by setting up machinery for technical institute districts embracing part or all of one or more counties. It also would give district trustees taxing authority.

The bill was recommended for passage after being amended to give the regents instead of the State Board of Education control over the districts. It now awaits House action.

In the Senate, a House-passed bill to permit community colleges to include technical schools in their operations is out of committee and ready for floor action. This bill also has been amended to conform to provisions in the regents measure.

School Income Tax
The House passed and sent to the Senate a bill to give local-option income tax authority to all higher education districts—technical institutes, community colleges and branch universities. It also extends the tax power to joint vocational school districts.

The bill, which has been undergoing extensive revision for most of this legislative session, came onto the House floor Wednesday as Republican policy legislation, increasing its chances for Senate passage.

Would Be Permissive
It's permissive legislation that would let any of the education districts place before the voters a proposal for an income tax of up to 1 per cent. People within the district would be taxed where they live rather than where they're employed.

That provision was added to the bill to cut down on bookkeeping problems.

University Branches
Legislative action was completed Wednesday on a bill affecting the operation of branch university districts. It provides that branches which form districts under a law enacted in 1961 may operate either under a district administrator or a seven-member board of trustees.

A companion bill that would permit university branch trustees to levy operating funds outside the 10-mill limitation still is awaiting initial action in the Senate. Its sponsor, Sen. Robert E. Stockdale, R-Kent, says he's not sure whether he will ask that it be brought to the floor.

State Bond Issue
One of the big money measures of the session, a proposed $250 million bond issue for education, parks and state facilities, is expected to come up for floor action in the House Tuesday or Wednesday. It passed the Senate

In Effort To Head Off Strike

JFK Steps Into Railroad Dispute

BULLETIN
WASHINGTON (AP) — The White House said today that negotiators for railroads and five operating unions had agreed to another postponement of their deadline for settlement of a work rules dispute that had threatened a nationwide strike next week.

The action put off the strike threat at least until July 10, as the two groups agreed to renew efforts to settle the dispute by negotiations.

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Kennedy steps into the railroad work rules dispute today, seeking to use his influence to head off a possible nationwide rail strike next week.

Kennedy scheduled a morning meeting with top negotiators for the railroads and five operating unions, giving him an opportunity to try his presidential persuasive power where others have failed for almost four years.

Also present will be Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz, Asst. Secretary James J. Reynolds and Chairman Leverett Edwards of the National Mediation Board, who have been trying to mediate the dispute for almost two weeks.

After midnight Monday the railroads will be free to put into effect new work rules, which will result in the eventual elimination of some 40,000 firemen from freight and yard trains.

Once the railroads set a time for the rules to go into effect, the unions are expected to call a strike.

The announcement Friday night of the White House meeting came after negotiators apparently had made no progress in the past four weeks of negotiating.

A Labor Department spokesman refused to elaborate as to why the meeting with Kennedy was called. He would say only that Kennedy wanted to talk over the negotiations with both sides.

The five unions represent some 200,000 on-train employees. They are the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, Switchmen's Union of North America and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen and the Independent Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers and Order of Railway Conductors and Brakemen.

Cyclist, 3 Others Hurt In Accidents
A Wellsville motorcyclist is in "poor" condition at East Liverpool Osteopathic Hospital following a highway accident Friday evening.

Three other traffic accidents were also reported by state highway patrolmen. Salem and Lisbon drivers were cited for driving violations following wrecks early this morning and Friday.

Gary Williamson, 18, of 605 Washington Ave., Wellsville, is hospitalized in East Liverpool with serious injuries received when his motorcycle went out of control on Route 7, one mile east of Wellsville at 6 p.m. Friday.

According to the Lisbon barracks of the highway patrol, the "cycle" went off the right side of the road and overturned. The victim suffered a possible concussion and abrasions.

A traffic mishap at 1:45 a.m. today on Route 62 about five miles south of Canfield involved automobiles driven by Anthony Nolfi, 35, of Youngstown, and Ha-

Report Comes As Cosmonaut Continues Trip

25-Year-Old Girl Ready At Launching Pad In Siberia

MOSCOW (AP)—Russia's fifth cosmonaut continued to loop the globe amid reports that the world's first spacewoman would follow him into orbit, perhaps today.

A Moscow radio report at 8 a.m. (1 a.m. EST) carried the voice of Lt. Col. Valery Fedorovich Bykovsky from outer space, saying he had completed 17 hours in orbit and all was well.

By 8:30 a.m. he had completed 12 orbits, Tass News Agency said. There was no official announcement that a second space craft would follow Bykovsky's Vostok 5, but both Soviet and Communist correspondents from other Red countries said a 25-year-old girl named Ludmilla was ready to take off from a launching pad in central Siberia.

Plans called for Bykovsky to stay up for five days and to be joined by a woman cosmonaut in parallel orbit sometime during the flight, these same sources said.

Ludmilla reportedly passed all tests better than the class of men that went through training with her, especially in her ability to bear weightlessness. Most reports estimated she would stay up 24 hours or less.

Premier Khrushchev disclosed the Bykovsky launching Friday at a meeting with Harold Wilson, visiting head of the British Labor party, and broadly hinted a second flight was in the works.

The launching of Bykovsky put the Soviet Union one up on the United States in manned orbital missions and prospects are slim that the West will close the gap within the next year.

U.S. authorities announced Wednesday the end of Project Mercury after four one-man orbital flights. The first two-man Gemini is not expected to go into orbital flight until late 1964 or early 1965.

Nikita Refuses To Yield On Nuclear Tests

MOSCOW (AP) — Premier Khrushchev indicated today that any concessions in negotiations for a nuclear test ban treaty would have to come from the West.

While expressing satisfaction with President Kennedy's plea for improved East-West relations, Khrushchev took a stand against on-site inspections sought by the West.

"We are ready to sign an agreement banning all nuclear tests even today," Khrushchev declared. But he added, "It is up to the West."

Khrushchev gave Soviet editors his reaction to Kennedy's speech at American University in Washington Monday. Tass news agency distributed the Khrushchev interview.

The Soviet government "would not agree to throw the territory of our country open to inspection for espionage purposes," Khrushchev said. He repeated the Soviet contention that such inspections are unnecessary to guard against cheating in underground tests.

The Soviet Union previously had offered up to three on-site inspections of its territory. The United States has been holding out for seven.

County Vocational School Need Cited

The need for a county vocational school was pointed out among other matters discussed at the five-school meeting Thursday night at Leetonia where profiles of schools were examined.

The fact sheets on student population, staff and program gave the five superintendents and 16 board members from Leetonia, Columbiana, Wellsville, East Palestine and Lisbon a chance to view the present situation in light of the future.

Debate On Profumo Set Monday

LONDON (AP) — Beseated by a growing clamor for his ouster, Prime Minister Macmillan remained in seclusion at his country home today to prepare his speech for Monday's crucial debate on the Profumo affair.

Macmillan faces a formidable challenge from his own Conservatives when the House of Commons debates the scandal involving playgirl Christine Keeler's simultaneous affair with former War Minister John Profumo and one-time Soviet naval attaché Yevgeny Ivanov.

The case took a sensational turn Friday when a British attorney said Miss Keeler had told him Ivanov asked her to wheedle nuclear secrets from Profumo. The 21-year-old redhead immediately denied this.

Macmillan's aides said the story of the reported Soviet attempt was known previously to the government. But Macmillan summoned top security aides and a new inquiry was considered imminent.

At least one former minister in Macmillan's government is expected to take a highly critical stand in Commons on the embattled prime minister's leadership in the crisis.

He is Nigel Birch, one of three

Doctors Reveal Hoover's Illness

Former President In Serious Condition

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Herbert Hoover, 88, has been seriously ill for the past week in his suite at the Waldorf Towers, his family announced Friday.

Three doctors attending Hoover issued a bulletin describing his ailment as "anemia, secondary to bleeding from the gastro-intestinal tract."

The physicians said there were no immediate plans to remove the nation's 31st president to a hospital. They noted that "within the last 24 hours there has been diminished evidence of bleeding."

"Although his condition is serious, it is, for his age, reasonably satisfactory," the physicians added.

Hoover underwent a three-hour operation last Aug. 28 at Columbia Presbyterian Medical Center for removal of a tumor from his large intestine. The tumor was described as cancerous with "no recurrence anticipated." He was released from the hospital Sept. 18.

To Protest Hiring Discrimination Demonstrators March on Capital

WASHINGTON (AP) — Washington's biggest racial protest was safely over today, but it left the nation's capital, worriedly aware that it will not be bypassed by the rising tide of Negro militancy.

Placard-carrying Negro and white marchers flowed down Pennsylvania Avenue Friday, after prayers across from the White House, in numbers that swelled to perhaps 3,000 at the height of the demonstration.

Spirits were high. Spectators, tourists and federal office workers flocked to watch and mingle, and the police helped speed the moving throng along.

There was one arrest—a motorist who failed to get out of the way.

The marchers scored one victory, the promise of a ban on housing bias this year. Their leaders declared themselves satisfied that they had put across their other chief demand—an end to racial discrimination in hiring.

But there was no sign that planning would be halted for a second great demonstration here—a proposed massive "sit-in" on Capitol Hill while Congress debates or filibusters a civil rights bill this summer.

Negro Leader's Funeral Today

Police May Halt Mass Procession

JACKSON, Miss. (AP)—Negroes by the thousand donned mourning garb for funeral rites today for Medgar Evers, slain fighter for integration.

The National Council of Churches called for its member churches and all other churches and denomination throughout the United States to toll their bells for 15 minutes at noon in honor of Evers.

Negroes planned a mass funeral procession afterward, but it was uncertain whether police in this uneasy city, gripped by racial tensions, would permit it.

Chief of Detectives M. B. Pierce, when asked late Friday night whether the procession would be allowed, said: "Let's wait until tomorrow; they haven't said anything to me about it."

Scene of the 11 a.m. (CST) funeral ceremony was the 3,000 seat Negro Masonic Temple. Coming here to attend were prominent Negroes from around the nation, and a number of white churchmen and civic leaders.

A 19-year-old white youth was shot in the back early today as he rode in a car with several other white teenagers on the street where the Masonic Temple is located.

Martin H. McGee, a Jackson youth, was in good condition with a wound in the left shoulder.

Police quoted witnesses as saying they saw "several Negroes in the area." The street divides the Negro and white sections.

Leaders of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, of which the ambushed Evers was Mississippi field secretary, planned that after the funeral Negroes numbering perhaps several thousand would walk silently behind the hearse, back to the Collins Funeral Home, about 20 blocks away.

From the funeral home, the body is to be transferred on Sunday to Washington for burial in Arlington National Cemetery Wednesday. Evers was a veteran of World War II.

The Roman Catholic bishop of Mississippi broke a 39-year silence on current issues, to call the assassination of Evers "a shocking and saddening occurrence more meaningful than the death of one man."

PROBING THE UNKNOWN

Early dawn at Cape Canaveral... and out of the flaming roar a finger of science probes the unknown.

Man has never been content to live behind a curtain of mystery. He must seek... discover... explore.

Nor is man's soul less eager than his mind!

For if we are meant each day to learn one more truth of our environment, we are meant, too, to learn one more truth of our Creator. There is hope that scientific probing can enrich our physical life; there is promise that religious searching will deepen our spiritual life.

Tomorrow depends on every lesson learned at Canaveral. But, to even greater degree, on every truth learned at Church.

Not Susceptible to Restraint

Everybody is joining regret over the assassination of Medgar W. Evers, the 37-year-old Negro who was Mississippi's top crusader for civil rights.

Even such staunch Mississippi segregationists as Sen. James O. Eastland is publicly shocked when a Negro leader is killed, presumably by the kind of Southern white who is not susceptible to restraint.

People like this are the great danger when tension is generated. They are on both sides of the civil rights issues. Negro leadership never knows when violence may supplant the nonviolence that has been its policy.

Whenever trouble is brewing, it attracts irresponsibles who would like nothing better than a donnybrook. These are the kind of whites who once practiced lynching. They are the kind of Negroes who constitute a major police problem in Northern cities. Their lack of discipline is a challenge to American society.

The most dangerous thing anyone can do in this country in any argument that hootens tempers and tempts violence, is to stir the uncontrollable tempers of the violent. Stirring up such people is an invitation to disaster.

Medgar Evans and his family are casualties of violence.

Among those publicly regretting what happened are many of the same people who made it happen. Their pious regrets and condolences are delivered in bad faith. They flunked the test of leadership, which is to repress violence, not arouse it.

The Truth Sooner Or Later

It must be easy for young job seekers these days to get the idea the older generation is using a stacked deck against them.

If they want to keep their idle hands from getting involved in the devil's work, they are told they are too young, too inexperienced, too irresponsible.

If they avoid being rebuffed when they ask for work and don't get it — if they settle for idleness — they are criticized or being shiftless.

If they make a working agreement with the devil, they are called delinquents. Heavy thinkers make speeches about them and write articles for the press.

Moreover, even if they find jobs someone will let them do, they stand a chance of hearing pecksniffs snort that they are taking money from heads of families.

Is it any wonder our young friends get confused and wonder if the older generation has gone off its rocker?

LET'S SEE if we can explain what has happened in a few words. Something like this . . .

In the 19th century, exploitation of children was a scandal. Laws were passed to protect them from employers who paid a pittance and worked them to a nubbin.

As the industrial revolution got rolling, child labor was squeezed out. This was a good thing. Then the good thing took an unexpected twist.

Do-gooders and do-outers moved in and took over.

Do-gooders passed bleeding-heart laws to keep juveniles from working and do-outers working the same side of the street, clasped hands and made common cause with do-gooders.

But the do-outers were interested only in doing out of jobs all juveniles who might compete with adults, especially in unions, and all aging workers who should be retired from the labor market, — in the opinion of the do-outers.

These two outfits, along with people who went wild with ideas to soak employers with restrictions, penalties, paper work, payments and prohibitions just about dried up opportunities for ambitious juveniles who wanted to get the hang of earning their own money.

THE EFFECT of this has been to dry up job opportunities for the young.

It's cheaper, simpler, safer and handier all around to make do with the people on hand than to take on learners who may or may not pan out.

Unions have put the freeze on apprenticeship programs, to protect established members. Thousands of employers who in former times would have taken a chance on fitting likely looking prospects into the organization now sit tight and take as few chances as possible. Chances can cost money.

If this gives members of the younger generation the idea they are playing against a stacked deck when it's their turn to get into the game, they can't be blamed.

It turns out when the do-gooders, do-out-thanks to restrictions created with exactly that end in mind. No one likes to tell them about this, but sooner or later the truth will come out.

THIS IS THE way it is when young people look for chances to earn a living. They're outsiders trying to squeeze into a closed corporation; only a limited number can make it.

If they're school boys looking for a chance to help the old man with a few vacation bucks, that's even worse. Do-gooders, do-outers and unionism have made it virtually impossible for them to break in.

That's the way it is, young America. We didn't plan it this way. But this is the way it turned out when the dogooders, do-outers and unions had got in their best kicks.

The Missing Meeting

President Kennedy is responding to Negro pressure for civil rights by appealing to many groups of citizens for support.

His latest appeal is to labor unions, which have been coldly indifferent to most criticism directed at them on exclusion of Negroes in closely controlled unions.

Previously, he had appealed to business. In between, he had appealed to all the rest of us. Mr. Kennedy is to be commended for the vigor of his leadership.

He cannot be commended, however, for the duplicity of his political position. He owes his squeaker election to the presidency in 1960 to the support of Democratic voters in segregation states in the South. They saved his skin.

His Democratic party owes its strength in the two-party system to the durability of segregationist senators and representatives who end up as chairmen of the important committees of Congress.

These durable gentlemen owe their survival, in turn, to their skill in appealing to red-necked voters in their state who intend to fight the race issue on the same line if it takes all the next century, too.

There is a crying need for strong political leadership. President Kennedy is going through all the motions, except one. The missing meeting is the one he hasn't scheduled with Southern segregationists whose forebearers tried to split the Union when federal leadership tried to bring them to terms.

Letter From Max

By Martin Miller

Dear Truman Twill:

When and if a man ever reaches the moon, he can really take a detached view of the world—3 million miles away.

Nowadays, if anybody wants to get away from everything he goes to the country, seashore mountains, golf links or Europe. Think of being able to go 3 million miles away from everything!

The old catch is that the chief concern of the first man on the moon will be how to get back to the rat race on earth.

He probably will have a hang nail that bothers him and his cuticle scissors will be in a dresser drawer at home.

You mentioned the other day that this generation has seen the first world orbiting, nuclear fission, less-than-four-minute mile and such "miracles" and asked if anyone would care to predict what the next two decades might bring. Never one to dodge an issue I offer the following:

Extraction of power by using heat from wells 10 miles or more deep, harnessing of the wind for power, a cure for cancer, mechanical hearts, practically complete success in transplanting such organs as kidneys and livers, getting electrical power from lightning and the use of the revolving earth as a generator, and the utilization of nuclear power.

In the famous old days we used to look back two or three thousand years to primitive times but now we look back on a decade ago as old times. Two decades from now we will be considered primitive.

The starling who took over an apartment in the multiple dwelling from the sparrows are running true to any form of animal life; now they won't even let any other starling in the other apartments.

ANOTHER THOUGHT about baseball: when the rest of us make an error we can alibi or at least hope other people forget it but when a baseball player makes an error it goes on the book and stays with him for crowdwou o shrdlueatocimfwy vbfgywk& the rest of his life. Our old pasture ball crowd would consider a big league error good playing.

Sign of the affluent times; it used to be considered a disgrace for kids to be seen in ragged clothes but nowadays "teen togs" are deliberately made and sold with ragged edges and even patches. What will the togs be like when this reverse status reaches the stage of the reverse-reverse status?

Your lament about the loss of shrubs to the hard winter strikes a sympathetic note with me because our place, too, has lost some big bushes frozen out by the cold or demolished by the snow. The only solace is that a few of the shrubs were spreading so much and getting so big they could almost be considered weeds. So we bid them goodbye with mixed feelings.

The wren is noted for its sweet song, but some of our friends agree with us that wrens nesting near the residence can be too much of a good thing. Even their cheerful warble palls from repetition.

IF THE SO-CALLED "hot line" is established between the White House and the Kremlin, there probably will be as much speculation as to what is said on the line as there used to be as to "What the governor of South Carolina said to the governor of North Carolina," but by now everybody knows what was said then. You know, don't you?

Faithfully yours,
MAX

Senator Says JFK Has Encouraged Street Fights

By DAVID LAWRENCE

Broadcasting companies are supposed to make available equal time for discussion of public issues by both sides. Yet the President of the United States is permitted to use virtually all television networks and radio stations for a public speech, while a spokesman of the opposition is given no opportunity to present his side of a controversy to that same audience immediately afterwards on the same evening.

President Kennedy addressed the nation on Tuesday night on the subject of widespread disturbances over racial questions. The same broadcasting facilities which were furnished to the President, at the request of the White House, were not given to a spokesman of the opposition viewpoint in Congress for his side of the controversy.

The country is fortunate, of course, in having newspapers available in which comments and rebuttal can be printed. Four newspapers in big cities in the North which this correspondent saw on Thursday did have brief reports to tell the public that Sen. Richard B. Russell, D. Ga., chairman of the Senate Armed Services Committee and an outstanding leader of the Democratic party in the South, had read to 18 assembled senators a statement which they had approved.

None of the papers printed any extensive extracts from the text of the statement issued by Sen. Russell, though three had printed the full text of the President's speech.

MR. RUSSELL announced his opposition to the President's civil rights program but more important than this was his charge that the President has, in a sense, encouraged street demonstrations. What Sen. Russell said still is news to many readers. He declared:

"The President's speech appealed eloquently to the emotions but completely disregarded reason, human experience and true equality under the Constitution."

"The fact that every citizen has the same right to own and operate a swimming pool or dining hall constitutes equality. The use of federal power to force the owner of a dining hall or swimming pool to unwillingly accept those of a different race as guests creates a new and special right for Negroes in derogation of the property rights of all of our people to own and control the fruits of their labor and ingenuity."

"The outstanding distinction between a government of free men and a socialist or communistic state is the fact that free men can own and control property, whereas statism denies property rights. . . .

"Our American system has always rejected the idea that one group of citizens may deprive another of legal rights in property by process of agitation, demonstration, intimidation, law defiance and civil disobedience. . . .

"The highest office of the land should symbolize respect for law, whether it be legally enacted ordinances of the meanest hamlet in the land or the written word of our national charter—the Constitution."

"I was, therefore, shocked to hear the President justify, if not encourage, the present wave of mass demonstrations, accompanied by the practices of sitting or lying in public streets and blocking traffic; forming human walls before the doors of legal businesses and assaulting with deadly weapons officers of the law whose only offense was undertaking to maintain order and protect private property."

"THE SOUTH has its shortcomings as well as other areas. But a calculated campaign waged by the metropolitan press, television and radio has magnified the unfortunate occurrences in the South while crimes of violence in other areas have been minimized. This has generated bitterness and hatred against the white people of the Southern States almost amounting to a national disease."

"It's also encouraging a condition bordering on anarchy in many communities. These terrible conditions are sure to further deteriorate with increasing disorder unless the President of the United States desists from using threats of mass violence to rush his social-equality legislation through the Congress. . . .

"The President of the United States has a higher call to leadership than to use threats of mass violence and disregard of reasonable local laws as a means of securing action in the courts and Congress, however desirable we may regard it to be. . . .

"The President and the attorney general now say that they will predicate this new thrust for race mixing on the already tortured commerce clause of the Constitution."

"If the commerce clause will sustain an act to compel the white owner of a dining hall to accept a Negro against his wishes, it can be used to sustain the validity of legislation that will compel his admittance into the living room or bedroom of any citizen."

"I BELIEVE in equality before the law for every American. In equal measure, I reject the idea that federal power may be invoked to compel the mingling of the races in social activities to achieve the nebulous aim of social equality."

"Every Negro citizen possesses every legal right that is possessed by any white citizen, but there is nothing in either the Constitution or Judeo-Christian principles or common sense and reason which would compel one citizen to share his rights with one of another race at the same place and at the same time."

Such compulsion would amount to a complete denial of the inalienable rights of the individual to choose or select his associates. . . .

"The President's legislative proposals are clearly destructive of the American system and the constitutional rights of American citizens."

"I shall oppose them with every means and resource at my command. I do not believe a majority of the Congress will be frightened by thinly veiled threats of violence."

Matter of Fact

The first "fragrance garden for the blind" was established in Lima, Pa., in 1929. Fragrance gardens are also located at the Brooklyn Botanical Garden and at the Lighthouse for the Blind in Chicago. These gardens have Braille markers and are designed so that the blind can enjoy trees and flowers and herbs through their textures and fragrances.

"On the Positive Side However, We've Managed to Shatter the Traditional Image of Conservative Stuffiness"

Our Travelers At Home

By BARNETT D. LASCHEVER

WASHINGTON—No matter how you slice it, the mass travel they're shouting about refers to Americans traveling within the borders of America.

Depending on who does the counting, and how many times each person is counted, between 47 and 89 million Americans will travel about this year within the confines of the United States. An additional 9 million are expected to visit Canada. And you can't get much more mass than all that.

By comparison, best estimates see a total of 1 million Americans venturing across the waters to Europe this year — a figure that still is something to crow about, for consider: these travelers keep 19 international airlines and a substantial number of steamship companies in business all year.

U. S. tourists abroad are expected to leave behind something more than $1 billion in expenditures.

DOMESTICALLY, they'll spend a whopping $26 billion, and help several states balance their budgets.

Where is everybody going, and who are they?

According to an American Express travel survey, two-thirds of the domestic tourists will take a vacation to a state other than their own, aided and encouraged by the burgeoning network of super-highways, hundreds of new motor hotels and flexible air, rail and bus package trips.

More than 80 per cent will travel by car, and hundreds of thousands of those cars will be filled with children. Traveling families are bent on education, as well as pleasure pursuits. According to the travel survey, this shows up in the impressive out-of-state visit or attendance at many historic sites and restorations.

EVERY YEAR several million persons visit Independence National Historic Park and Independence Hall in Philadelphia and Gettysburg; Colonial Williamsburg; The Alamo; Old Sturbridge Village in Massachusetts; the reconstructed seaport at Mystic, Conn.; the Henry Ford Museum in Dearborn, Mich.; and the New Salem State Park, Ill. (frontier village where Lincoln lived).

State parks counted 273 million visits last year, which, of course, includes repeaters.

The National Parks, which last year clocked 88 million, likewise counts visits, not people in its totals.

Surprisingly (to those who live in them) big cities exert a powerful travel lure during the summer months. New York City, for example, has 14 million out-of-state visitors a year, and a considerable number come when school's out and the children are free.

SPECIFIC TRAVEL targets for and special events that are being staged around the country:

Idaho's and West Virginia's Centennial celebrations, continuation of the Civil War Centennial, North Carolina's 300th anniversary of the granting of the Carolina Charter, and such perennial favorites as the music festivals at Tanglewood, Newport and Aspen; the Black Hills Passion Play, and outdoor historical dramas at the Cherokee Village and Boone in North Carolina.

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

for an evening. I would settle for once a month.—M AND D.

Dear M AND D: Young children must learn to get along with people outside the family. The fact that Lisa at 18 months is afraid of strangers proves she already is having emotional problems.

By all means start to go out one evening every other week and don't let her tyrannize you into staying home. Just say goodbye and leave.

Headstrong Daughter

Dear Ann: I'm having real trouble with my 20-year-old daughter. She is attractive, bright and holds a high-paying job.

Stephanie has been going with a divorced man who says he is 32. He looks 42. She met him at work and has fallen hard. The man's wife was a tramp and he has custody of their four children. The youngest is only 2 years old. A housekeeper takes care of the children.

Stephanie has gone with this man for only 2½ months and he has asked her to marry him. I'm afraid he is looking for a mother for his children rather than a wife. Every weekend when the housekeeper is off she goes to his home and works like a horse. Stephanie says I must allow her to lead her own life. I'm a widow and she insists I'm hanging on to her because she is all I have. This isn't true—I want her to marry some day but I want it to be a good marriage and I don't think this is right for her.—SAD MOM.

Dear Mom: A 20-year-old girl who takes on a 32-year-old man with four children after only 2½ months of courtship could be making a big mistake.

Ask her to give the romance another six months. I'm betting if you keep mum and don't put her in the position where she must defend her choice, she'll break it off.

It's hard for a mother to remain silent in such circumstances but silence is your best ally.

Dear Ann: I could have hugged you when you told that woman to get off the floor and stop being a doormat. My minister gave me the same advice 10 years ago and it was the best thing that ever happened to me.

I had five small children and was afraid to speak up to my husband for fear he would leave me. I felt like an unpaid servant. He'd finish dinner and run to his mother's house every night to play cards and drink beer with his no-good brothers. He said the kids made him nervous and he had to get out of the house.

After crying my eyes out for months I decided to talk to my clergyman. He said, "What if your husband died. You'd have to manage without him, wouldn't you? Tell him to grow up and act like a man or to go to his mother's and stay there."

Well, I told him, Ann, just like the minister suggested and he almost fell off the chair. Believe me he's been a different person ever since. Now he treats me with consideration and respect. The woman who allows herself to be kicked around by her husband deserves it.—FROM DOORMAT TO PEDESTAL.

DEAR PEDESTAL: Congratulations to th transition. I am a firm believer in getting off the floor if you don't like being kicked around. It's always a joy to hear from someone who woke up and smelled the coffee. Thanks for writing.

Confidentially

TO PLEASE REPEAT IT: Okay. Here it is: Brilliant people talk about ideas. Average people talk about things. Small people talk about other people.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Salem News, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

U. S. Withdraws Haitian Ambassador

WASHINGTON (AP)—The United States has bowed to a "request" of the Haitian government that it remove Ambassador Raymond L. Thurston as envoy to Haiti, but officials said today this government's disapproval of the Duvalier regime will continue.

Haiti is recalling its own ambassador to the United States, Dr. Louis Mars.

The result of these two actions is to reduce the level of diplomatic relations between the two countries in the wake of the recent dispute over President Francois Duvalier's decision to stay in power.

The two steps were announced by the State Department Friday night. A spokesman said that the Haitian "request" for Thurston's removal was delivered to the ranking U. S. diplomat at Port au Prince, Glion Curtis Jr., early in the afternoon.

The Haitian note gave no reason for the action, but it was understood here that Duvalier considered Thurston personally responsible for U. S. coldness toward his regime.

Soviet Spaceman Reported Eating, Sleeping Regularly

MOSCOW (AP) — Cosmonaut Valery F. Bykovsky today completed his first 24 hours aloft on a space flight that may last several days and involve a twin flight by the world's first spacewoman.

He reported he felt fine and had a hearty appetite.

Tass, the official Soviet News agency, said that after completing 16 orbits Bykovsky reported that he had slept well for six hours, awoke at 7 a.m. Moscow time "and began fulfilling the program for the second day of his flight."

"Strictly on schedule," Tass said. "The cosmonaut had his dinner, supper and breakfast. The cosmonaut's menu included fried tongue, sausage pies, cutlets, oranges, mashed prunes, black and white bread and other tasty and highly nutritious food."

Tass said the 28-year-old cosmonaut messaged that he had used manual controls on one of the circuits to check orientation. When flying over North America he conveyed greetings to the people of the United States, the report added.

Traveling on Route 164, she was struck by the Arkwright truck which was traveling on 224.

Earlier Friday, at 7:15 a. m., three vehicles were damaged and two drivers were slightly injured in an accident on Route 7, about one mile north of Rogers.

According to the Lisbon highway patrol, the mishap happened when an unknown car passed two other vehicles, one a car driven by Alex Walczak, 37, of 1641 Thalia Ave., Youngstown, and the other a tractor-trailer operated by James Goode, 44, of Martinsville, Va.

The three vehicles were southbound. When the unknown vehicle made the passing, the other two vehicles attempted to slow down in order to avoid a collision with a northbound car driven by Clyde Minnis, 29, of Route 4, St. Clairsville. The truck was unable to slow down, however, and instead it jackknifed in the path of the Minnis car.

Minnis and Walczak were treated for minor injuries at Salem City Hospital and were released.

Southwestern Kansas will produce little in wheat this year but in other sections of the state the crop improved considerably with June rains.

The total Kansas crop is estimated officially at about 177 million bushels compared with about 211 million bushels last year.

Texas reported recent improvement in drought conditions but a reduction of 3.5 million bushels in an expected wheat crop of 40 million bushels has been predicted.

Range lands in Arizona have been burned and water holes are dry over much of the state, ranchers report. Some are hauling water for stock.

The upper part of the Great Plains have received approximately normal rainfall and the growing season has progressed normally. Parts of Montana and Wyoming were threatened earlier in the spring, but heavy rains in May have put crops in good shape.

Brightest spots in the Midwest are the Dakotas. Minnesota and Iowa were few if any growing areas are hurting for moisture.

Legislature

without trouble June 5.

The Education portion of the issue would be split to give state universities and their branches $140 million, municipal universities $35 million and public schools $35 million.

Longworth Pleaded

House Education Chairman Robert H. Longworth, R-Carroll, says he's highly pleased with the way the education measures are moving.

"I would say we'll end up with a program as sound as any this side of California," he said.

Public School Funds

But while the legislature is pushing the capital improvements tax measures for education districts, it's virtually ignoring educators' demands for more public school operating money under the state school foundation program.

Except for the built-in increases in the foundation program as spelled out in the appropriations bill, there apparently will be no immediate action on legislation to benefit public school operations.

There's a good chance, however, that the foundation program will come under thorough scrutiny by legislative researchers after adjournment. A short-term study is expected to be requested within a week with an eye to considering foundation increases during a special session of the legislature in the fall.

HASSLE WITH PRODUCER

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — Singers Steve Lawrence and Eydie Gorme were in a hassle with a local producer in Rochester, N.Y., today over an outdoor revue that was postponed Friday night.

Kennedy Greengrass, the singers' manager, said they would not appear tonight in a rescheduled show.

Greengrass replied that Lawrence and Miss Gorme, who are husband and wife, were relieved of their contractual obligations with producer Dennis Ritz because of "numerous and substantial breaches of our agreements."

He said Ritz failed to provide a stage, microphone and other equipment at Red Wing Stadium. Ritz could not be reached for comment. He had announced the postponement because of "inclement weather."

Kirkland's 19th Inning Homer Gives Cleveland Split

Senators Win 1st Game 5-2 King Blasts Pair; Walker Posts 5th

CLEVELAND (AP)—Wonderful Willie Kirkland is hero once more in Cleveland. He turned the boos to cheers Friday night with a dramatic home run in the 19th inning of the longest contest this season in the major leagues.

Kirkland's blast, his second of the game gave the Indians a 3-2 triumph over Washington after the Senators snapped Cleveland's seven-game winning streak in the opener with a 5-2 decision.

Jim King hit a pair of two-run homers in the opener to give Tom Cheney (6-7) the victory over the Indians' Barry Latman (2-3). Cheney and relief pitcher Ron Kline blanked Cleveland without a hit over the final six innings. Jerry Kindall hit a two-run homer in the first inning.

But it was the second game that was a classic. King also homered in that contest, but had to take a back seat to the heroics of Kirkland, who also knocked in the Tribe's first run with a single to left in the opening frame. He accounted for all three runs.

King's homer in the sixth inning of Gary Bell tied the score 1-1. Bell left after nine innings in his duel with Claude Osteen, the 23-year-old left hander who departed after 11 innings.

Osteen was on his way to victory after the Senators pushed across a run in the 11th inning against Ted Abernathy on a walk, a hit-an-run single by Bobo Osborne and pinch-hitter Dick Phillips' two-out double to left.

Kirkland opened the 11th inning by blasting a homer into the right field seats to tie up the game again.

Bob Allen pitched hitless ball in the 13th and 14th innings for Cleveland. Jerry Walker pitched the final five frames and was superb. He gave up only one hit, a single to King, and struck out seven while walking only one. He was credited with his fifth relief triumph against a single loss.

Osteen's relief, Jim Coates, was firing blanks at the Indians, too. He hurled seven full innings, giving up five hits while striking out six. But the final blow in the 19th was Kirkland's shot opening the inning.

Pete Ramos (2-1) faces the Senators' Bennie Daniels (0-3) today.

OSU's Sparma Inks Contract With Detroit

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Right hander Joe Sparma will be pitching baseballs in the Detroit Tigers' chain this summer—so he won't be pitching footballs for Ohio State this fall.

The Buckeye junior from Massillon gave up his final year of football eligibility in favor of a bonus contract with the Tigers Friday. Detroit assigned him to Knoxville of the South Atlantic League.

The 6-foot-2, 200-pound Sparma was Ohio State's chief passing threat as an alternating offensive quarterback the past two campaigns. In baseball this spring, he had a 4-1 Big Ten record and chalked up a no-hitter against Michigan.

One of Sparma's Buckeye baseball buddies, second baseman Ken Peters, also signed a professional contract Friday. The Cincinnati Reds took him in tow and assigned him to Tampa of the Florida State League.

State's Top Teams Form New Grid Loop

WARREN, Ohio (AP)—A new football league, to be made up of six northeastern Ohio scholastic powers, is being formed. Ben Wilson, head football coach at Warren High, has revealed.

The league will be known as the all-American Football League and membership has been extended to Niles, Warren, Cuyahoga Falls and Steubenville. Massillon and Canton McKinley also may join, said Wilson, who is temporary chairman of the league.

Wilson said league play would begin next fall with each school attempting to complete a full league schedule by 1965.

The six teams that would make up the league have won between them four state championships and been runnerup four times in the last five years.

SKYDIVERS TO JUMP

The Alliance Skydivers will give an exhibition parachute jump at the Minerva Airport Sunday starting at noon. The unit has cancelled its scheduled program at Martin field near Canton.

Ken McLemore clouted two over Bliss in a City Softball League contest at Kelley Field Friday night.

In other action Purity-Barnetts nipped Charley's Boats 4-3 in an extra inning game, and Parker's Chevrolet whipped Pop's Igloo 10-1.

Cranston also homered and singled in four trips to the plate. He also picked up his fifth pitching victory in six starts this season.

Paul Herman led Charley's Boats with two hits. The winners tallied one run in the seventh, when Bob Huffman, Herman and Frank Gray hit back-to-back singles.

Parkers handed Pop's Igloo its 10th straight loss. The winners scored five runs in the first inning. A home run by Henry Miller and a triple by Ed Bozich featured the rally. Bozich also hit a double in the third.

600 Shooters Eye $20,000 At Vandalia

VANDALIA, Ohio (AP)—Always willing to finance their fun and back their ability, some 600 trapshooters will toss about $20,000 into the pot today as they go after Ohio's 16-year championship.

The 200-target race, toughest in the shotgun game, is the semifinal feature of the 77th state meet at the American Trapshooting Association grounds here. An entry fee of $20 plus another $15 for the optionals under which each may wager on his own prowess gives all an equal chance at thousands in prize money.

Charley Houston of Dayton, a former Army sergeant, plopped down $31 in fees Friday and got back some $800 for winning a combined minor handicap and 16-year race with a total of 195.

But most of Friday's drama was in the doubles event, hampered by high winds, in which veteran Joe Hiestand of Hillsboro was shorn of the title he has won eight times. Joe and 25-year-old left-hander John Sternberger of Trotwood tied at 99 of 100, but in the shootout Sternberger won 20-19.

Hiestand, now in his 50s, won with a 99 score a year ago. The Hillsboro farmer has won more national titles than any other marksman including the Grand American doubles four times, but young Sternberger wasn't to be denied as he grabbed his third title in three days of firing here.

Despite his illustrious career, Hiestand says he hasn't earned enough in the trapshooting game to pay expenses—and the chances are he's the sport's top money winner. The current five-day shoot costs $266 in fees and option money on top of ammunition and other expenses. The program calls for 1,200 targets, requiring 48 boxes of shells at a market price of $112.80, or about $50 in "roll-your-own" as about 75 per cent of the shooters do.

The state association has tossed $3,575 added money into today's grab-bag and has guaranteed a $10,000 purse for tomorrow's wind-up, the handicap championship. At least 100 will share the Sunday money.

Ohioans were outshot by non-eligible out-of-staters in some of Friday's events. But here's how the top Buckeye entrants fared:

Jones Is Unpopular Winner Over Daniels

TEANECK, N.J. (AP)—Pudgy Doug Jones Friday night won an unpopular decision over Billy Daniels before a crowd of 4,000.

Jones, third-ranked heavyweight sliced Daniels about both eyes and pounded out a 5-4 decision over the No. 6 man in the division.

Under New Jersey rules referee Paul Cavalier had the lone vote. The decision was loudly booed. The Associated Press had Daniels winning 5-4-1.

An AP poll of writers at ringside showed 11 thought Jones won. Six scored the fight for Daniels and three called it even. The victory raised Jones' record to 22-4-1. Daniels is 18-3.

Boston Dumps Slumping Baltimore; Chisox Cling To Lead, Nip Athletics

By BOB GREEN Associated Press Sports Writer

Dick Radatz is a large, burly young man who frustrates batters with a simple formula.

He just leans back and throws it past 'em.

The 6-foot-6, 245 pound Boston Red Sox right-hander used his speed in two innings of spotless relief work in Boston's 5-1 conquest of slumping Baltimore Friday night.

It was his sixth save of the season, in addition to his 6-1 win-loss record, and ran his string of consecutive scoreless innings to 33.

Chicago retained its one-game lead atop the American League standings with a 3-2 victory over Kansas City; New York came from behind for a 4-2 edge over Detroit, Minnesota took over third place on a 3-2 decision over Los Angeles and Washington snapped Cleveland's seven-game winning string 5-2 in the opener of a twin-night doubleheader before Cleveland struggled to a 3-2, 19-inning triumph in the nightcap, the longest game of the season in the majors.

Radatz, who hasn't allowed an earned run in 15 appearances since May 12, needed only three pitches to work out of a jam when he relieved Earl Wilson with the bases loaded and none out in the eighth. John Powell grounded into a double play on Radatz' first offering, and Jim Gentile fouled out on the second pitch to him.

Charlie Maxwell hit his first homer of the season leading off the ninth inning and broke a 2-2 tie for the White Sox against Kansas City. Ron Hansens two-run double in the seventh pulled the White Sox into a tie.

The Tigers' Don Mossi blanked New York on three hits through six innings before homers by Joe Pepitone and Clete Boyer in the seventh brought the Yankees from behind a 2-0 deficit. Jim Bouton, 8-2, went the distance for the victory, only New York's third in nine games with the Tigers this season.

Minnesota moved .002 points ahead of fourth place Baltimore when Earl Battey's seventh-inning homer broke a 2-2 tie against the Los Angeles Angels. Bob Allison had a two-run homer for the Twins who have now won 21 of their last 27 games.

Jim King had a pair of two-run homers in Washington's first game triumph over Cleveland and also connected in the 4 hour 33 minute nightcap. Willie Kirkland ended the 19-inning marathon with his second homer of the game. He had prolonged it with an 11th-inning homer that tied it 2-2.

Big Jack Plans To Compete In Open

Nicklaus May Be Out of Thunderbird With Bad Neck; Palmer, Nichols Lead

By WILL GRIMSLEY Associated Press Sports Writer

HARRISON, N.Y. (AP)—"I intend to play in the open next week if I have to carry my own clubs—and I've got a heavy bag."

Aching neck or not, that was the determined promise of Jack Nicklaus as he pondered whether he should continue pursuit of his chief rival, Arnold Palmer, today in the $100,000 Thunderbird golf classic.

Nicklaus, scheduled to defend his National Open crown next Thursday through Saturday at the country club in Brookline, Mass., came up with a muscle spasm in his neck Friday during the second round of the Thunderbird.

Although in intense pain, he finished with a 72 for a score of 141. This placed him only four shots back of the lead.

"If my neck's not sore when I get up Saturday, I'll play," Nicklaus said. "If there any danger of hurting my chance in the open, I'll pull out. I'll definitely play in the open."

Palmer, coming back after a month's rest during which he pulled his sagging game together, managed to hold on to a tie for the lead despite a luke-warm putter.

He shot an even par 70 for 137, tying 27-year-old Bobby Nichols of Louisville, who added a four-under-par 66 to a first round 71.

One stroke back at 138 were young Jack Rule of Waterloo, Iowa, the first round leader with Palmer 67-71 and Art Wall, Jr., the Masters champion and leading money winner of 1959, with a brace of 69s.

It was a tight package at the final two rounds over the 6,550-yard, par 70 course.

South Africa's Gary Player, the other member of the big three which includes Nicklaus and Palmer, was at 139—two shots back—with eight other tough pros, Sam Snead, Jay Hebert, Dow Finsterwald, Gardner Dickinson, Joe Campbell, Bob Duden, Dick Crawford and Canada's Al Balding.

Ben Hogan, the immortal four-time open champion, thrilled the nostalgic galleries by fashioning a second 71 for 142, well under the half way breakpoint point of 146.

Braves' Spahn Blanks Phillies 3-0

Giants Edge Colts 2-1, Tie Cards For 1st; Mets Triumph

By MIKE RATHER Associated Press Sports Writer

Candlestick Park, the home of the San Francisco Giants and the big wind, now has a heartbreak ridge—a 15 inch mound of dirt where Hal (Skinny) Brown finally surrendered.

Brown, a 39-year-old retrain right-hander toiling for Houston, was forced to run up the white flag as San Francisco edged the Colts 2-1 Friday night and moved into a tie for the National League lead with St. Louis.

Mixing up his pitches superbly while waging his one man battle from the mound, Brown made one mistake in seven innings—Tom Haller's homer in the second inning. Not another Giant reached base before Brown left for a pinch hitter after seven innings. It was Brown's second consecutive outstanding effort against the defending champions. The former American League hurler held the Giants to one hit in 6-1-3 innings of relief only five days ago while winning his first game in the National League.

When Brown left, the Giants massed a small attack, pushed across an eighth inning run and held on for the victory.

The Cardinals reached the top rung by defeating Pittsburgh 5-2 while the Chicago Cubs toppled Los Angeles from first place to third by downing the Dodgers 4-1.

Warrens Spahns three-hitter—the 57th shutout of his career—gave Milwaukee a 3-0 triumph over Philadelphia and the New York Mets slugged Cincinnati 10-3 as Duke Snider became the ninth major leaguer to reach the 400-homer mark.

Julian Javier collected three singles and a double for the Cardinals, racing home with the run that broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh inning when Curt Flood singled off the glove of losing pitcher Bob Friend, 8-5. Donn Clendenon's two-run homer had pulled the Pirates even. Ray Sadecki, who took over in the first inning when Ray Washburns arm trouble recurred, went the rest of the way for his fourth straight victory. He has lost four.

Ernie Banks drove in two runs with a double and his 14th homer and Ron Santo also homered for the Cubs, while Glen Hobbie scattered nine hits. The only Dodger run came in the sixth inning when a pickoff play went awry, allowing Willie Davis to streak home from third. Both of Hobbie's victories in seven decisions have been against the Dodgers. Bob Miller, 4-3, was the loser.

Moving into a tie with oldtimer Jim Galvin for seventh place on the alltime shutout list, Spahn got all the runs he needed from Tommie Aaron's bat in winning his ninth against three losses. Aaron drove in the Braves runs with a sacrifice fly and a two-run double off the Phillies outstanding rookie Ray Culp. Culp, 8-4 allowed only two hits in the seven innings he worked.

Snider's two-run homer off Bob Purkey, 1-4, got the Mets away winging and they were never headed in winning for the first times in 12 games at Cincinnati. Ron Hunt led New York's attack with a double, triple and two singles in support of Carl Willey, who needed Roger Craig's relief help to even his record at 5-5.

OUR BOARDING HOUSE

A word from THERON at the Country Store

I received a letter the other day suggesting it seems rather foolish to spend the taxpayers money fighting over paying for Salem's parking meters.

I guess when it gets to Lisbon they are spending some of my money. If this is in the interest of better government it's all right, but if its just party backing we have too much of that.

With our government of the people, by the people and for the people there always will be some difference in opinions. I am glad I am a grocer and not a politician. I find members of both parties are good eaters.

History Today

Today is Saturday, June 15, the 166th day of 1963. There are 199 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1215, King John signed the Magna Carta at Runnymede under compulsion of 2,000 English barons who refused to fight on foreign soil and demanded the end of illegal levies by the king. The Magna Carta is regarded as one of history's greatest documents.

On this date:

In 1775, George Washington was appointed commander-in-chief of the Continental Army.

In 1836, Arkansas was admitted to the Union as the 25th state.

In 1904, more than 1,000 persons were killed when the excursion steamer, General Slocum, caught fire while going through Hell Gate in New York's East River.

In 1945, the Allies announced the capture of Nazi Foreign Minister Joachim von Ribbentrop in a Hamburg lodging house.

Ten years ago: A snorkel-equipped British submarine reached Portsmouth, England, from Bermuda, completing the first-known underwater crossing of the Atlantic.

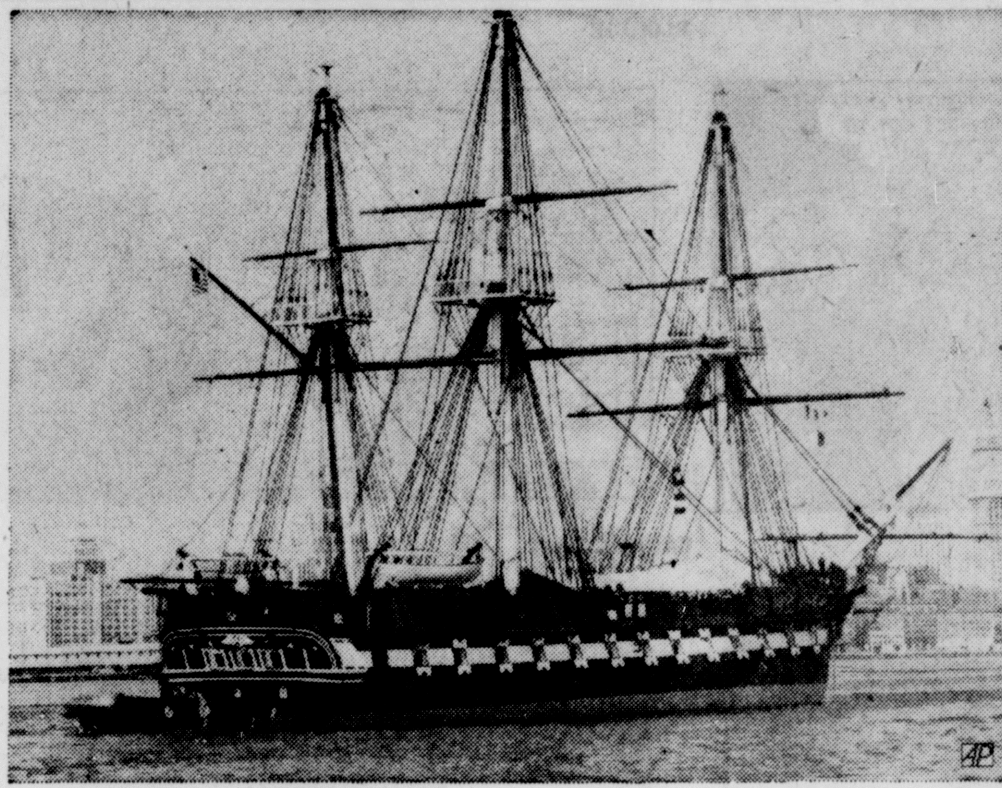

Five years ago: President Tito of Yugoslavia charged that Communist China was counting on war to consolidate its rule in Asia.

One year ago: The 17-nation disarmament conference at Geneva began a one-month recess after hearing Soviet charges that the United States was unwilling to do anything to implement disarmament.

POLICE ENFORCE CURFEW

WARREN, Ohio (AP) — Five boys, aged 14 to 16, were arrested Friday as police continued to crackdown on curfew violators. The boys and five other youngsters arrested previously were released to their parents pending court hearings.

The law requires all children under 16 be off the streets between 10 p.m. and 5 a.m. unless accompanied by a parent, guardian or responsible adult.

TO WEATHER BETTER—The USS Constitution, the oldest commissioned warship in the United States Navy, makes its annual cruise in Boston harbor. The 166-year-old ship is "turned around" to equalize the wind and sun exposure to its masts and yards.

Greenford

King's Daughters class met recently at the home of Mrs. Paul Baird with 14 members present. Mrs. Baird gave the devotion and Mrs. Ralph Hendricks gave the topic, "God's Will". Mrs. Ralph Crawford of Arizona, former member, was guest.

Mrs. John Harbin showed slides of her Florida vacation and the Tulip Festival in Mansfield.

Next meeting will be July 8 at the home of Mrs. L. L. Brown.

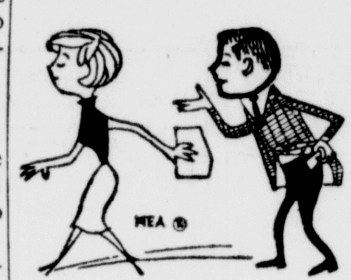

Mr. and Mrs. William Kopp of Gnadenhuetten, former residents, have returned home after spending several days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Clay.

Home Circle Club met recently with Mrs. Russell Huffman with 10 members present. Guests were Miss Phyllis Lamb and Mrs. Eugene Huffman. Plans for the family picnic July 26 at the L. E. Coy Memorial Park were discussed. Next meeting will be July 11 at the home of Mrs. Edwin Bush.

YOUTH, 19, DROWNS

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—John Willie Smith, 19, of Dayton, drowned in Springbrook Lake southwest of here Friday when he stepped backward and fell into 15 feet of water. Neither Smith nor three youths with him during some horseplay on the bank could swim.

Mind Your Manners

A young man who pretends to be the last of the big spenders may find himself too broke to ask a girl for another date.

Minister Says Evers Got Death Warning

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Medgar Evers, the NAACP field secretary shot to death Wednesday, had been warned in an anonymous telephone call that he would be killed, a Negro civil rights leader said Friday night.

The Rev. Donald L. Tucker of Greenwood, Miss., said Evers called him Tuesday night to tell him to be careful.

"Medgar said, 'D.L., I got a telephone call and the man at the other end tapped a gun against the phone and said it was the gun that was going to kill me,'" Tucker said.

"Medgar used to say that he felt safe when he drove into his driveway—and was thankful he had made it through another day," Tucker said. "But that night he was shot in the back in his driveway."

The minister told about 200 persons at an NAACP rally: "I didn't stay there for the funeral because I was scheduled to come here to speak. Medgar wouldn't have wanted me to stop for his funeral. Death threats, he said, came virtually every day and some days telephone threats are made every hour."

Tucker is president of the Lefflore County chapter of the NAACP.

TO OFFER REWARD

CLEVELAND (AP)—The Cleveland branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has asked for contributions for a reward to persons giving information leading to the arrest and conviction of six youths who beat up a white boy and beat and raped a 15-year-old girl.

The boy, 18-year old Thomas Giffin, has described the attackers as six Negro youths. Giffin and his female companion were both in satisfactory condition in Mount Sinai Hospital as a result of the incident Wednesday night.

FILE SUITS IN DEATHS

CLEVELAND (AP) — The husbands of two of six Akron school teachers killed in a truck-car crash on the Willow Freeway last November filed suits totaling $20,000 in common pleas court Friday.

Doral R. Lewis and Dewey Whit-ed each filed a suit on his late wife's behalf against the Ohio mattress Co. of Medina, owner of the truck, and Justin J. Gedraitis, the truck driver. Gedraitis, of Cleveland, is serving a six-month workhouse term for manslaughter in the deaths.

ADMIT BEATING BOYS

CLEVELAND (AP)—Eight Negro youths are in the juvenile detention home after admitting they beat three white boys in retaliation, East Cleveland authorities report. The eight boys admitted the beatings when they were arrested Friday in Forest Hills Park. The victims, David P. Murphy, 12, Thomas J. Clark, 10, and Stephen G. Zang, 9, did not require hospitalization.

By The Associated Press
Virginia Allen, first vice president of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs, says women who work are serving society.

"The entire economy would collapse if all women in the business and professional world quit and went home," she told the Florida federation's annual convention at Jacksonville Friday.

Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther, president of the American Red Cross, cited the dignity of the individual Friday as a concept which binds Americans together in their fight against communism.

Gruenther, a retired army general, also said "I believe we will avoid a third world war." He spoke to 749 officer graduates of the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan.

Tom Mboya, Kenya minister of justice and constitutional affairs, conferred today in London with Kenya students and business individuals.

He was in the British capital with a delegation to press the British government for a final constitutional conference and ask it to set a date for independence.
